Erin Crawford is a relationship blogger with a bucket list and a vendetta. After years of horrible luck in relationships, she decides to start a blog called "30 First Dates." Her mission: go out with 30 men before her 30th birthday, all to find a non-jerk in 30 dates or less. As she blogs about her sometimes humorous and sometimes laughably bad dates, she crosses off her bucket list of 30 things she wants to do before she turns 30-and kills two birds with one stone by completing the items on her dates! In fourteen months she skydives, skinnydips, crashes a wedding, travels to multiple cities and lives way outside her comfort zone. The only question is, as her birthday approaches and her list grows smaller, will Erin be able to find love? Or is she destined to be a first-date-only kind of girl?

Every date is my next chance to find love—but my brother's best friend has his own plans for me. Every perfect rom-com has a twist that leads the heroine to her happily ever after. Me? Somehow, in any room full of Prince Charmings, I always manage to find the one frog. So this time, I've found my own twist. Four of my friends will each set me up. Four first dates. Four chances at my own happily-ever-after. My brother's best friend even offered to watch my baby while I'm out finding true love. Only Maddox has seriously grown up since I saw him last. The guy next door now looks more like the guy on a magazine cover. He's inked and sexy. Muscular. Utterly irresistible. And? big. Oh, and did I mention he's now my roommate? Surely having a brother's friend-with-benefits won't hurt my search for Mr. Right. Especially if he's my fifth first date! Five First Dates is a standalone romantic comedy with a tattooed bad boy roommate, a feisty heroine, an adorable baby, and a Happily Ever After.

Ellen meets Jim at a posh restaurant, hoping for an evening of fine wine and better conversation. Maria sets out on a walk with a man she's been looking forward to meeting. In First Date Stories, these women, and others, enter into initial liaisons with well-honed expectations—and come out on the other side with extraordinary tales to tell. Chances are, every woman in her mid-thirties and over who is seeking a loving companion has a first date tale of triumph or disaster. Each of the candid and memorable stories Jodi Klein shares here imparts a bit of wisdom—with the help of takeaway tips and inspirational quotes—to guide readers through what can be a baffling, intimidating, and sometimes lonely journey. Before a promising first date, or after an awful one, First Date Stories offers readers the reminder that being single should be celebrated, that not all first dates are created equal, and that every initial encounter has the possibility to become something long-lasting and wonderful.

30 dates in 30 days. Seems like fun right? Yeah, not so much...When my boss asked me to write an article about online dating and more specifically the do's and don'ts of first dates, I expected it to be a mess. I hadn't expected it to be a complete and utter disaster, though. How was I to know that I'd be paired up with arrogant, cocky, and "too handsome for his own good." Nolan Montgomery.Nolan had always treated me as his little sister's annoying best friend and I couldn't stand his bossy ways. The last thing I needed was him following me around with a video camera and lecturing me on all the things I was doing wrong. I certainly didn't need him showing me how I could improve: even if his lips and hands were recurring images in my dreams. He may have been my first kiss, but there was no way I was going to let him get his hands on me again.Queen of First Dates is a Hilarious standalone romantic comedy.

Thirty first dates in thirty days.Who talked me into writing this magazine column and going on these ridiculous dates?Oh yeah, my mother.After ending a ten year relationship, I never thought I'd find myself here ... single.The dating game is entirely different than it was a decade ago. And I hate it. Apps, swiping left, ghosting, and the potential that one of these guys is an axe murderer, or worse, a catfish.And the one man who actually caught my eye? He's completely off limits. I only have one rule and I won't bend it for anyone, not even him.

Whether you're newly together and eager to make it work or a longtime couple looking to strengthen and deepen your bond, Eight Dates offers a program of how, why, and when to have eight basic conversations with your partner that can result in a lifetime of love. (Happily ever after! is not by chance, it's by choice! the choice each person in a relationship makes to remain open, remain curious, and, most of all, to keep talking to one another. From award-winning marriage researcher and bestselling author Dr. John Gottman and fellow researcher Julie Gottman, Eight Dates offers an ingenious and simple-to-implement approach to effective relationship communication. Here are the subjects that every serious couple should discuss: Trust. Family. Sex and intimacy. Dealing with conflict. Work and money. Dreams, and more. And here is how to talk about them!how to broach subjects that are difficult or embarrassing, how to be brave enough to say what you really feel. There are also suggestions for where and when to go on each date!book your favorite romantic restaurant for the Sex & Intimacy conversation (and maybe go to a yoga or dance class beforehand). There are questionnaires, innovative exercises, real-life case studies, and skills to master, including the Four Skills of Intimate Conversation and the Art of Listening. Because making love last is not about having a certain feeling!It's about both of you being active and involved.

Cognition, Communication, and Romantic Relationships focuses on the role of memory, communication, and social cognition in the development of romantic relationships. The authors review developmental models of communication and examine criticisms of these models. They also explore the stages through which relationships escalate and deteriorate, and consider the processes for such activities as meeting new people, dating, sexual intercourse, and terminating relationships. Differences between men and women are discussed throughout the text, in light of current research supporting systematic gender differences in how people think about romance and relationships. As an extended analysis and research review of how thinking about romance influences and is influenced by communicative processes, this text offers a deeper understanding of the cognitive and communicative factors involved in relationship processes. It is designed for use in courses on interpersonal relationships and intimate relations in social psychology, communication, counseling psychology, clinical psychology, and sociology.

When it comes to men, Marissa Jones is totally committed to not being committed. One major heartbreak is enough for her. Against her better judgment, Marissa agrees to a pact with her friends to marry the next guy she dates. But she isn't going to take any chances. For her, it's a numbers game, and one Last First Date just isn't enough. So, she ups the ante—three first dates with three very different guys in one day. But can any of these men live up to her high standards? Despite a few bumps in the road, from the three, she chooses The One. That is until the ex she never got over turns up, changing everything. In the end, do you choose love or does love choose you?

Do your readers have trouble getting dates? Did a significant other break up with them recently? Does it seem like everyone in the world is happily paired up? What do your readers do about these feelings of rejection, loneliness, and frustration? Using real-life examples and quotations, this guide discusses the biological, emotional, and social effects of love and provides research-based information on the best ways to deal with crushes, dating, relationships, and breakups. If readers have their eyes set on someone, they'll take a quiz to find out if this crush has a chance and how to make the first move.

Ellenis figured out that finding the right guy is all about compatibility. That's why she signs up for Detailed Dating!the local online dating scene in Sacramento. They ask men the hard questions, compare their answers with hers, then she filters through the profiles of each provided ™match.™ After numerous email exchanges, she narrows it down to two promising candidates she's excited to meet in person. When Ellen's best friend asks her for a favor, dog-sitting leads to disaster and Ellen ends up at the local vet where she meets a man she can't get out of her mind. Henry isn't a logical choice, but she finds herself paying for dog obedience class to spend more time with him. Ellen knows that in order to have a lasting relationship, she should take the safe route and go for one of the pre-screened guys. But, how can she think with her head when her heart keeps begging her to give Henry a chance?
